DEAR FRIENDS,

As I promised in the last letter, I am on a getaway to process all that has been downloaded to me over the last couple of months. However, I'm still getting behind because it keeps coming. It has been an amazingly rich time in the Lord. I feel that almost every day I have been given remarkable insights into the ways of the Lord and what is happening in the world today.

As I also promised, I will give brief accounts of what is going on in the different departments of MorningStar, but by request I am also going to try to share with you more of what I am engaged in personally. I'll begin with the...

MORAVIAN FALLS MISSION BASE/RETREAT CENTER

The Moravian Falls Mission Base has been occupied by our Moravian Falls Church for about two years. They have initiated finishing of the basement in the building, and this has allowed us to focus on finishing the Bob Jones Vision Center at H.I.M. Both of these, as centers of prayer, intercession, and worship, will be like two power generators propelling our ultimate purpose—equipping and missions. >>

“I feel that almost every day I have been given remarkable insights into the ways of the Lord and what is happening in the world today.”

» There is nothing on the earth more powerful than prayer. The Lord requires prayer because “The heavens are the heavens of the Lord, but the earth He has given to the sons of men” (Psalm 115:16). That is why He will not move on the earth unless we ask Him. For this reason, prayer is like the fuel for the power generated by any ministry or church.

Our Missions Department has started using Skype to pray for our missionaries. They have teams now that will spend several hours ministering to them and giving them words. This has had an amazing impact on these missionaries, as they have never had anything like this before. Teams from our Moravian Falls congregation have also begun to Skype our missionaries with extraordinary results. I believe this congregation is going to become increasingly engaged with our mission force and be a big part of its continued development and support.

The Mission Base is on about thirty acres that we have in the West Meadows development. Then we have the guest houses up on the mountain that we call High Meadows. The Retreat Center is being used about as much as possible and is a huge benefit to us, as well as other churches and ministries that use it. The community built up around it is also growing in size and strength.

MORNINGSTAR MISSIONS

Last month I asked Jorge Parrott, our Missions Director, to give you a report on our missions, but I would like to add something. Under this missions arm, there are some of the most effective missionaries of our time, with some having planted thousands of churches, schools, and other works in various countries. There are over 500 missionaries in 58 countries under the MorningStar/CMM covering. They have planted, we estimate, between 15,000 to 20,000 viable churches.

I have not met with all of our missionaries, but the ones I have met are very impressive. There are certainly larger missionary organizations, but I think we could measure the spiritual weight of this group, and what they are accomplishing, with any missionary force. Not only is there an uncommon depth of devotion to the Lord, to His truth and righteousness, but there is a spirit of revival on them that I have no doubt is building up for a major spiritual explosion.

THE GREATEST REVIVAL IN THE CHURCH AGE

When I was a new believer over forty years ago, one of the first things I was shown prophetically was that the greatest revival in the Church Age would be in Russia. This was hard to comprehend because, at the time, it was the height of the Cold War, with the Soviet Union’s dominance over much of Europe and Asia, and Russia was the core of its power. Their Marxist “religion” was atheism.

In 1987 I was shown that the nations under Communist domination were about to experience increasing liberty, and the nations that enjoyed democratic and republican forms of government were going to start losing their liberty. I wrote about this in my second book, The Harvest. However, I was as surprised as anyone when it happened as quickly as it did, and the Iron Curtain collapsed less than two years later.

Then just a few years ago, I was given a dream about a revival that would sweep over Cuba. In the dream, I felt it was one of the greatest ever and would result in the entire nation being saved. In the dream, everyone in Cuba had turned to the Lord. They were so infatuated with Him that He was the conversation of all in Cuba. One major result of this revival was that as Cuba turned to a market economy, they were able to filter out the extremes—the corruption and greed that too often come with capitalism. The second result of this exceptional move of God in Cuba was that it sparked the great revival in Russia.

My point in sharing this with you now is that we, MorningStar, have an opportunity to be a part of some amazing things in Cuba. A divine strategy is unfolding that could very well strike the spark that ignites Cuba and makes it the epicenter of what God is doing in the earth for a period of time.

I cannot say much more about this now, but if it unfolds like it seems to be doing, I think the “behind the scenes” on this one will be one of the remarkable stories since the Welsh Revival. Please pray for Cuba at this crucial time, and pray for our missionaries there. Just in the last few weeks, they have led nearly seven thousand people to the Lord.

TEXAS

I make a lot of jokes about Texas and Texans because I love them so much. If I could not live where I do, I would hope to live in Texas. Whenever I go there, I feel in a strange way as if I am at home. Many of my favorite people are Texans, and it is not just that they have great personalities, but there is a certain steel in their backbone that is rare in these times. Of course, Texas is a suburb of the Carolinas, but in these times it is encouraging to go to a place where the men are still men and the women are women. I’m really excited that my son, Ben, is about to move to Fort Worth.

Texas has also provided much of the salt and light that has preserved our Christian heritage in America. This is not because of their politicians, or just the rugged individualism Texans are known for, but it has a lot to do with the influence of the Southern Baptist Church in Texas.

A couple of weeks ago, I went to Waco, Texas, to be with Ramiro Pena. Ramiro had been asked to head up a gathering of the local churches in Waco to dedicate the beautiful new football stadium for Baylor University, a great Baptist school. Ramiro has been on the Board of Baylor for many years, and he and the former President of Baylor, Dr. Sloan had come to Moravian Falls to stay with us for a few days a number of years ago. Dr. Sloan had been resolute in reversing the liberal, anti-Christian influence that had begun to dominate the faculty at Baylor, and he required every new faculty member to be a Christian.

Dr. Sloan started a major battle, but kept his resolve and did not back down. He was eventually fired, but what he had set in motion could not be stopped. The work of turning this great school back to its roots continued through Ramiro and others on the Board that remained resolute. There is still much to be done, but what has been accomplished in returning Baylor to its Christian roots and making it a fortress for the truth is remarkable. God is going to recover every school that was begun for His purposes. Other university administrators have been studying what is happening at Baylor. The Southern Baptist denomination will be likewise renewed and become one of the great forces for the truth in these times.

When I landed at Waco, Ramiro was there to greet me, along with the sheriff and one of his deputies. They escorted me to Gary and Diane Heavin’s ranch where I was staying. The Heavins are the founders of Curves gyms for women, a huge company now with a multitude of gyms all over the world. The Heavins are serious adventurers, innovators, and are among the premier ranchers in Texas. They are also serious Christians devoted to knowing the times and being engaged in making a difference.

Gary, Ramiro, and I stayed up far past midnight the first night I was there discussing just about everything. Over the next couple of days, we had several more sessions that were very encouraging to me. Gary is spending hours a day studying current events and the major issues of the times. He is also developing products that could help many people survive the times, as well as producing movies with a message.

Ramiro, who is the pastor of a Baptist church in Waco, interviewed me for their Sunday morning service. I thought it went well, and the people seemed to enjoy it. We then had lunch at The Baylor Club at the stadium and waited for “The Gathering” to begin at 5pm. It was estimated that 35,000 people attended. The whole program was powerful. Quite a few new believers were added to the kingdom, and this had to be a great encouragement for the churches of Waco as their first “unity event.”

For the event, I was in Drayton McLean’s box, a great American entrepreneur who is well known for being Sam Walton’s partner, as well as

Baylor University

“Dr. Sloan had been resolute in reversing the liberal, anti-Christian influence that had begun to dominate the faculty at Baylor ... he started a major battle, but kept his resolve and did not back down. He was eventually fired, but what he had set in motion could not be stopped.”

» being the former owner of The Houston Astros baseball team. He is a primary benefactor to Baylor University, and the new stadium is named after him. He is a very likeable, engaging, and hospitable man. Of course, all of the dignitaries gathered in his box, including Ken Starr who prosecuted the Clinton Whitewater scandal and is now President of Baylor, as well as the Lt. Governor and Attorney General of Texas, and other engaged Christians from the area, and the Heavens.

The next morning, Ramiro, Gary, and I were sitting outside at the ranch talking about Cuba when Drayton McLean called to ask Ramiro what is “the next big Christian thing they could do.” We had some fresh ideas, and we have been working on them since. For several years, we have tried to get warehouses in Florida as a staging area for when Cuba opens up, but we have always been blocked. However, we have learned that anything that happens too fast or too easily is usually insignificant, and this is a significant purpose. I think it could be the most important thing I have ever been a part of. What began as just a little blip on our radar screen keeps getting bigger. You will be hearing more about this.

WRITER'S SEMINARS

My sister Debbie and I began doing small Writer's Seminars a few years ago to try to pass on to others in just a few days what has taken us decades to learn. We limit them to no more than thirty people, and these quickly became one of my favorite things to do. It is amazing how the people attending can bond together in just three days, but it is also very encouraging to now see the impact these writers have had. Our goal for these seminars is for everyone attending to not only get published, but become successful, high-impact writers. Now we have an increasing number who have been through this seminar do just that, and it is really gratifying to see.

We realize this seminar is only one factor to help them along the way, but many had little chance without it. I think about 99% of all prospective writers have a good message, and many of them great messages, but will likely never get published unless they self-publish. This is mostly because of the simple things they are doing that no publisher will accept. We spend a good amount of time in these seminars dealing with these stumbling blocks. This alone can take someone who probably has less than a 5% chance of being published, and give them the keys to change that to a 90% or better probability.

Even more important than getting published is to get the message in a form that people will actually read. Too much Christian writing has been like too many Christian movies, so far below standard that it is embarrassing to Christians. If I had known the simple things we teach in this seminar when I started writing, everything I have produced would have been much better. If we do have a message from the Lord, it deserves to be presented in the best possible form. We are shooting for nothing less than raising the standard.

Highly successful writers will budget as much as $10,000 to $20,000 a year to attend Writer's Seminars, just as almost all of the truly high-impact people in other fields. Writer's Seminars can cost $5,000 for just one day, which is spent mostly listening to a successful author lecture. You are on your own for rooms and meals. Our seminar is only $1,500 for three days, and it includes room and meals in Moravian Falls, and we are repeatedly told that ours is one of the best. One problem that the highly successful have with ours is that it is so cheap they don't think it could be very valuable. That's okay. The real value will be determined by the results it has in the works of those who have attended.

We are resolved to keep these as affordable as possible, but we will likely have to go up some on the price, but not until after the upcoming one this May 3-6. If you are thinking about coming, this is probably the one you want to make. It is also one of the most beautiful times of the year in the Falls.

SID ROTH'S PROGRAM

I received much feedback from the show I did with Sid Roth that aired recently. Thanks. If you missed it, I think you can go to his website and access it in the archives. I am also planning to do a series on the experience I've been having with the Lord that began last summer.

I also want to say how much I appreciate Sid. I have known him for probably thirty years or more, and always love being with him because I have not seen his zeal for the Lord wane one bit, ever. He is really as excited about the supernatural all of the time, and for seeing souls saved. I am really thankful for friends like Sid and others who really are flames of fire, passionately in love with God and with seeing Him touch people.

JIM BAKKER'S PROGRAM

I also received a lot of feedback from the Jim Bakker shows I was on recently. I try to get out to see Jim, Lori, and their team at least once a year because they are some of our closest friends in the Lord. I appreciate all they are doing to help God's people understand the times and be prepared for them. I always leave their place refreshed and feeling like I received much more than I gave. Thanks for watching and for your comments.

As always, thank you for standing with us and being a real Partner in our mission. When we say, "You're the best!" it is sincere. We really do have the most faithful Partners by a big margin over any other ministry I know. We take this as a sacred trust and are determined to multiply all we are entrusted with, so that the fruit in your account will also be multiplied.

I also pray the blessing of II Corinthians 9 upon your life. 🙏

Yours in Him,

Lessons From The City Of Light

BY JORGE PARROTT

All Scriptures are from New King James Version.

Fresh winds of the Holy Spirit are blowing in the northern Philippines. Many of our dear long-term friends have been such faithful servants of the Lord. Since my first visit there in the 1990s, we continue to be so blessed to partner with them, as together we keep our focus on the “main thing” that is, Jesus. I remember the first time I was there was a life-changing three weeks in their midst.

At the airport after that first visit, there were about twenty-five precious ones seeing me off in Laoag City, or City of Light, as it translates in Ilocano, their native tongue. Just as we were saying our good-byes, I read from the Book of Acts about the Holy Spirit. I then led them in a prayer to receive the baptism of the Holy Spirit. It has been a marvelous journey together into the heart of the Lord since that first trip.

Laoag City, Philippines

PLANTING CHURCHES WHERE THERE WERE NO CHURCHES

Many churches have been planted since the late 1990s. What a joy to have been brought to the far reaches, driving through dry river beds and rocky roads, over the last seventeen years to places with names like Bacsil, Magabobo, Vintar, Piddig, Paoay, Solsana, and Baguio. I have been asked to pray over young pastors, and at times, a small group of local believers that were begun by evangelists and pastors through house-to-house visits asking families how they can pray for them. These churches start with the foundation of loving God, followed by koinonia fellowship, and building the church family with much love and the Christ-like faith of loving “your neighbor more than yourself.”

“Now to Him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, to Him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus to all generations, forever and ever” (Ephesians 3:20-21).

I love to be asked to pray and prophesy to these hungry, young, “sold-out” pastors and even to bare patches of land, as we release destiny and anointing into their lives and their assignments. How great to return years later and see thriving congregations and beautiful buildings with an overflow of people standing outside, praising and worshipping the Lord because there is not enough room inside to hold them all. God has provided abundantly through our working together for the glory of the King. Unity and maturity have prospered even as our souls have prospered with these dear friends of God.

My wife, Anna Marie (our Philippines Field Director) and Nancy Daniel, (Dean of the MSU College of Theology and Webmaster) have visited many times since the first CMMP (Correll Missionary Ministries Philippines) is led by Florie Santiago, who knew and loved Sidney and Helen Correll, founders of CMM, for many years. Florie and her team of anointed leaders have shown great creativity and leadership in planting many churches where there were no churches. They have sought to win the lost and disciple many in unreached mountain places and remote villages that previously had no gospel witness.

“The labor has been long and hard, and sometimes you feel you cannot even make it through to the other side, but the birth is upon you and because you have always put worship in the forefront, expansion is rapidly manifesting.”

» trips. We welcome teams to join us in these refreshing faith-adventures into the vineyards of the Lord. We always have much time to minister, often at three churches every day, and plenty of time just being with them in the presence of the Lord. We also have great fun laughing with much joy and love all around.

Our recent encounter with God’s people in Laoag City, Illocos Norte, was a powerful time of joy, rejoicing, thanksgiving, seeking divine strategies led by the Holy Spirit who breathed on us all as we celebrated another year of graduation.

TRUE APOSTOLIC LOVE

Our team got to share from the heart of the Lord every day being led by the Holy Spirit. We shared on updates from frontlines around the world where our MS/CM missionaries are working along with updates from the Middle East refugee crisis and the spreading persecution of Christians. We shared about the importance of striving to enter into the rest of the Lord with faith. At every meeting, we encouraged them and prophesied and released the hope we have in Christ. Many times it felt we were receiving more blessings and love from them than we could impart to them. God’s people in this community in the north of the Philippines are true lovers of God and each other. Each time we visit, they shower us with genuine love and Holy Spirit empowered hospitality and impart real joy in the Lord, as our strength.

Team ministry is growing in effectiveness as we focus on the heart of the Father and the preeminence of Jesus, not the personalities of men and women. We are called to lead with a precious love for those we are permitted to minister to as we are sent out to many nations.

As Paul writes, “But as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel, even so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God who tests our hearts. For neither at any time did we use flattering words, as you know, nor a cloak for covetousness—God is witness. Nor did we seek glory from men, either from you or from others, when we might have made demands as apostles of Christ. But we were gentle among you, just as a nursing mother cherishes her own children. So, affectionately longing for you, we were well pleased to impart to you not only the gospel of God, but also our own lives, because you had become dear to us” (I Thessalonians 2:4-8).

When Anna Marie spoke a few years ago, one of the leaders took this photo of her just as this giant scroll appeared in front of her.

Jorge is baptizing young burning ones in the Philippines Sea near our CMMP campground on nine acres of beachfront property that we acquired in the 1990s.

PROPHETIC WORD: HE HEARS MY HEART

Anna gave a powerful prophetic word that touched many lives. The worship leader of the main church and his wife gave birth to their first child while we were there. The layette they had prepared for the baby turned out to be too small. The next night when we spoke at Pastor Elynois’ church, the Lord gave Anna the word for all of CMMP: This is a prophetic baby for this next phase the ministry is entering:

“The labor has been long and hard, and sometimes you feel you cannot even make it through to the other side, but the birth is upon you and because you have always put worship in the forefront, expansion is rapidly manifesting. What you have prepared for needs to be greatly expanded because the Lord is doing far greater than you can think or imagine. Enlarge your tent pegs, for the Lord is with you! Think larger and more creatively! He is going to do things in ways you have not anticipated. The baby’s name is: Jeriah Leb, which means ‘He hears my heart’, and that is exactly what is going on.”

One night I spoke at Pastor Danny’s church in Bacsil and the glory came down. The altar was full of many hungry for more of the Lord. Many were healed and set free. Some had been in cults, and wept as they were getting delivered.

In 1999 near Bascsil, a baby was found abandoned in the bushes. They brought the baby to me, and I prophesied the Moses anointing on him. His parents were unwed at the time of his birth. I prophesied the restoration of his family, who no one knew at the time. Now over fifteen years later, the couple has been married for some time and is active in the church. The boy is still called Moses. Moses is now a young leader in this church, and it is always great to see him each year.

I was asked to speak at the area pastors’ meeting to about thirty pastors from various churches who gather and pray together. All of the students of the CMBI (Correll Memorial Bible Institute) were also present. I spoke on ➤➤

“I spoke on unity, the importance of hearing the voice of the Lord, and growing in sensitivity to the Holy Spirit. Preparation for these strategic times is another consistent theme of our mission trips.”

The faculty of CMBI with Jorge, Anna, and Nancy at graduation.

» unity, the importance of hearing the voice of the Lord, and growing in sensitivity to the Holy Spirit. Preparation for these strategic times is another consistent theme of our mission trips.

The pastors spoke about the threat of Islam in the Philippines and how to address homosexuality, many of the same issues the whole world faces. We also shared on the Sunday weekly radio program, reaching potentially 1 million in the North. We prophesied, as the Spirit led, to the redemptive gifts and purposes in the Philippines.

RAISING UP ANOINTED LEADERS TO TAKE THIS LAND

The powerful team of leaders has also raised up over one hundred pastors who have graduated from the three year ministry school at CMBI (Correll Memorial Bible Institute). The majority of the faculty have been teaching from the beginning of the school. God has given Pastor Florie a strategy, and it is worth looking at. The strategy includes Special Forces conditions over a solid three year period. Developing and transforming the mind, soul, and spirit. When a student signs up for class, the commitment is between the individual and the Lord, not for the glory of man.

From an educational perspective, we saw firsthand how a school does not just turn out graduates, but fruit that is lasting and fruit that produces more fruit. There are several components the Lord has put together causing this to work so well. Nancy Daniel is a powerful and anointed teacher who disciples many young people. She invests her heart and many hours, always connecting and counseling so well these young firebrands for Jesus. She spends countless hours listening and loving them into the presence of the Lord. Many of these pastors are dear lifelong friends.

Pastor Florie's exceptional work and background is the driving force from which the Holy Spirit flows. She tells us that young students need the full three years to develop. This is a true Special Forces experience for the entire time they are in the school. Pastor Florie says this is what changes them and develops the character and integrity. This is not just head-knowledge, but heart change. These are true servant leaders. Everyone we met had a sense of humor and was easy going as well. No one was looking for position with man, but each was pressing into God.

The school here does an amazing job in preparing students during their three years. It is a great model of pastoral/missionary training with wake-up calls to pray at 4:30 a.m. on the rooftop of the four-story school building. The students cook home-grown food over open fires and do their laundry in buckets. They clean the church, water the plants, train and work with over two hundred youth every Saturday with Compassion International. These well-rounded pastors are long-term gems in the kingdom.

This is Special Forces training for three years, along with intense studies, public speaking, evangelism, discipleship, leadership training, and more. The third year work study includes planting a church where there is no church. These churches average 80-120 people each and are growing. The students and local church members work with Compassion International and have over two hundred children each Saturday for a whole day of discipleship and fellowship. Many of the graduates have received full scholarships to attend college from Compassion International.

We went one morning to a public school honors program. We were asked to award a young man, James, whose mother died last October. Pastor Florie has adopted him. James received five awards! He is so in love with the Lord, and he has a pure heart and strong leader's anointing. The public schools here pray openly to the Lord, and at this ceremony we all sang a beautiful song praising God.

We are helping the local school with added curriculum and resources to build their library. We are working on earning accreditation with the awarding of degrees in Pastoral Missions. This year the new school term starts June 15.

It is hard to believe that for an amazing year at this three year school the cost is only $120.00!! That includes tuition, books, room and board. Still, at these low rates, many students want to attend but cannot afford to. As God leads, please pray about sponsoring a student for only $120.00 per year. We also ask our Partners to pray about supporting the rice fund which is $2,000 a year for the whole school. BOB JONES VISION CENTER

Spring is here at MorningStar, bringing more news about the Bob Jones Vision Center (BJVC). Valentine’s Day dawned bright and clear, and many of our Partners came to honor Bob Jones’ memory at the Groundbreaking Ceremony. The weather is warming and construction is moving forward, beginning with demolition of the Tram Stop. We are excited about the BJVC’s design of glass walls that will give the transformed building a beautiful, panoramic view of the lake and surroundings. 🌍

COMENIUS SCHOOL FOR CREATIVE LEADERSHIP

The Comenius School for Creative Leadership (CSCL), the K-12 school at MorningStar, blew into spring with their third annual Final Quest 5K run and fundraiser. Proceeds benefit the CSCL students for mission trips, and a CSCL mission team left for the Philippines a few days after the 5K race. In addition, CSCL has released its first staff-authored book, Kingdom Education: The Comenius School for Creative Leadership Approach. Michael Fickess, CSCL English and Literature teacher, published his book Enoch’s Blessing: A Modern English Paraphrase of Enoch’s Ancient Writings. Rick Joyner commended Michael’s book saying, “Enoch’s writings are filled with important prophetic insights that many believe were intended for this season.” 🌍

THE OAK INITIATIVE 2.0

The Oak Initiative 2.0 is off to a great start with the Summit that was held on February 28 and 29. Words from Marc Nuttle, Lt. General (Ret.) Jerry Boykin, Lance Wallnau, Nicholas Papanicolaou, Janet Porter, Rick Joyner, and others built momentum, with many saying it was the best yet. The meeting was rich with wisdom and direction. There is no doubt The Oak Initiative 2.0 has the signs of becoming a historic movement. The Oak has adopted the Lausanne Covenant as its positional statement because it best defines the heart and substance of our mission and message. Dr. Billy Graham led the now historic meeting of global Christian leaders in 1974 at Lausanne, Switzerland. His passion was to “unite all evangelicals in the common task of the total evangelization of the world.” 🌍
